Αισθάνομαι ιδιαίτερη χαρά που παρουσιάζω , σε όσους δεν τον γνωρίζουν , έναν πολύ αγαπητό μου φίλο κυπριακής καταγωγής τον Κυριάκο Χατζημιχάλη.

Σ' αυτούς πού τον γνωρίζουν ο Κυριάκος χαρακτηρίζεται για την ευθύτητα του χαρακτήρος , για το λεπτό του χιούμορ καθώς κ την Βρετανική φλεγματικότητα που τον διακρίνει.. κάτι που απέκτησε λόγω των πολλαπλών σπουδών του σε Αγγλικά σχολεία..

Πάρα ταύτα ως Παριζιανος κρατά κ την κοσμοπολίτικη του χροιά ..

The ancient Greek word diaspora means "to scatter about", and that's exactly what many Greeks did — they scattered from their homeland to places across the globe and some came to Ethiopia. Some came a few generations ago, and others later, making Ethiopia their new homeland only to disperse across the globe once again. One of those was the father of KYRIAKOS HADJIMICHALIS, Dr. Sergios Hadjimichalis a prominent eye doctor in Addis Ababa who also had the honour of being selected to act as a Honourary Consul for Cyprus.

KYRIAKOS was born in Addis and finished school there. His further education took him to Manchester where he obtain a Masters degree in Mechanical Engineering , and went on to obtained a PhD from Oxford University. He now lives with his wife in Paris.

Throughout the years,however, Kyriakos' thoughts would often wander to his birthplace Ethiopia and with Ethiopia often on his mind he created the famed FB site " Kyriacos bouna bed" , where for 5 consecutive years he posted on a daily basis beautiful photos daily life in Addis and rural Ethiopia. His photos were always marked by objectivity and refinement. It was a work of love.
